

A BRILLIANT WEDDING.

Miss Annie Dowsett and Mr. E. B. Brenham United in Marriage.

The Ceremony Performed at St. Andrew's Cathedral—Most Beautiful Floral Decorations—Grand Reception.

One of the most brilliant events that has taken place in Honolulu society circles in a long time, was the marriage of Miss Annie Kahuna Dowsett to Mr. Robert E. Brenham at St. Andrew's Cathedral Thursday evening. The event was announced for 7 o'clock but long before that time the cathedral was crowded with invited guests and others. While the ceremony was in progress there was scarcely standing room.

The floral decorations in the cathedral were on a magnificent scale and the interior of the fine building presented a most imposing appearance, especially the chancel. On the altar were two handsome bouquets of white flowers, while on either side were immense banks of greenery. The entrance to the altar was spanned by an arch of palm leaves and roses, the altar rails being festooned with vines, dotted with flowers. Over this arch was a handsome marriage bell of white and pink roses, the tongue being of stephanotis. Above the bell could be seen a white dove holding streamers of white satin ribbon on which were the names—Dowsett-Brenham—in gilt letters. The effect of this was very pretty. On either side of the altar were two immense bouquets of flowers, tied with satin ribbon, adorned the lectern, while the pulpit was resplendent with roses of choice varieties on a background of ferns. The desks of the two front seats in the nave were literally buried in flowers, principally roses. In the windows of the nave stood potted plants, while at the foot of the columns were small palm and fern leaves tastefully arranged and tied together with satin ribbon. Passion vines hung from the capitals of all the columns in the chancel. The chandeliers were also festooned with evergreens. The general effect of the decorations was charming. Mrs. James W. Robertson, Mrs. George E. Boardman and Mrs. Farnsworth Corbin, the ladies who undertook the decorations at the Cathedral.

The invited guests as they arrived at the Church were shown to seats by the ushers, Messrs. E. Faxon Bishop, H. M. Whitney, Jr., J. H. Wodehouse, Jr., and S. A. Monsarrat. At 7 o'clock the organ struck up with a wedding hymn by Kandegger, Mr. Wray Taylor presiding at the instrument. Two or three moments later the bridal party entered the Cathedral and marched up the aisle, while the organ played the bridal march from Lohengrin, in the following order: The bride leaning on the arm of her father, Hon. James L. Dowsett, Miss Mary Dowsett, maid of honor, and Mr. J. M. Monsarrat, best man, then the bridesmaids and groomsmen, Miss Emma Jameson and Mr. E. Dowsett, Miss Lizzie Coney and Mr. W. T. Monsarrat, Miss Emma Davidson and Mr. A. C. Dowsett. Mrs. J. L. Dowsett, mother of the bride, occupied a front seat in the nave. The groom had previously taken up a position near the chancel step. The hymn "How welcome was the call," was then sung by the choir of ladies and gentlemen of the Second congregation. The ceremony was performed in the most impressive manner by the Rev. Alex. Mackintosh, the responses by the bride and groom being distinctly heard. The service was choral throughout and included the special psalm and the vesicles. During the singing of the psalm, the bridal party moved up to the altar where the service was completed, after which they returned to the vestry to sign the register. As they left the Cathedral Mendelssohn's Wedding March pealed forth from the organ.

The bride, a young lady most favorably known in this community, and daughter of our most respected residents Hon. J. L. and Mrs. Dowsett, made a charming picture in her wedding costume. She was attired in a dress of white moire, on train, the front panels being of gold brocade silk. The veil was worn and her ornaments consisted of diamonds. Miss Mary Dowsett the maid of honor wore a pretty costume of corn color, Miss Jameson peach blow, Miss Coney Nile green and Miss Davidson shrimp pink. The bridegroom is traveling agent for the Manhattan Life Insurance Company and a member of the California bar having been admitted in 1882. His father was once Mayor of San Francisco.

At 8 o'clock a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, Hanalei, Hawaii. An immense lanai had been erected on one side of the house, the exterior of which was so elaborately decorated with flags, flowers and evergreens that it almost baffled description. It was the admiration of all present. Colored lanterns were hung all over the grounds with artistic taste, making one almost imagine they were in fairyland. The lanai was lit up with the electric light.

Roses and other flowers were used with careless profusion in embellishing the interior of the cosy house. On the mauka side of the lanai were three alcoves, the center one being occupied by the bride and groom in receiving the congratulations of their friends. At the back of this alcove was an immense bank of greenery, covered with roses. The happy couple stood underneath an exquisite floral marriage bell. For over two hours there was a constant stream of invited guests calling to tender their congratulations. The Hawaiian Band under direction of Prof. Berger was stationed in the grounds and played choice selections of music. The guests as they arrived at the house were received by the same ushers who officiated at the cathedral. Once inside everyone was made to feel quite at home by the hospitable host and hostess.

Among those noticed present were: Their Majesties the King and Queen, attended by the Vice Chamberlain Mr. Jas. W. Robertson and Mrs. Robertson, Hon. A. S. Cleghorn, Hon. J. L. Stevens, United States Minister Resident, Major Wodehouse, Her British Majesty's Commissioner, G. E. d'Anglade, French Commissioner, Senor A. de Souza Canavaro, Portuguese Commissioner, H. W. Severance, United States Consul General, H. F. Glade, German Consul, J. F. Hackel, Belgian Consul, J. H. Pary, Consul for Netherlands, T. B. Walker, British Vice Consul, R. W. Laine, Consul for Mexico, A. W. Richardson, United States Deputy and Vice Consul General, Captain St. Clair and officers of H. R. M.'s S. Champion, Captain Coghlan and officers of U. S. S. Mohican, Captain Lyons and officers of U. S. S. Nipsic, members of the Privy Council and Legislature and a large gathering of our most prominent residents.

The wedding presents received by the happy couple displayed in the parlors were very numerous and comprised some costly tributes of affection. After the reception, dancing commenced to the strains of the Hawaiian string band, which was stationed in the lower alcove in the lanai. The programme of dances was as follows: Lancers, waltz, polka, lancers, waltz, yolk, lancers, waltz, schottische, lancers, waltz, and galop. Many of the ladies wore elegant costumes and with the bright uniforms of the naval officers, the scene was a gay one when dancing was going on.

An elegant supper was served in the dining room at 11 o'clock, the choicest of viands being spread on the table. There was an efficient corps of waiters, and ample justice was done the many good things. Dancing was resumed after supper and kept up with spirit for several hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Brenham left for Pualoa where they will spend their honeymoon. They leave for San Francisco on the Zealandia February 8th, and will remain there several weeks, then going on to New York. The Advertiser joins in wishing them many happy years of wedded bliss and prosperity.

CONSULAR CERTIFICATES UPON NON-DUTABLE GOODS.

Judge Sawyer has rendered a decision in the case of Seigfried & Brandenstein against Collector Phelps adverse to the claim which the latter has always maintained to require importers to furnish certified consular invoices for free goods. In this case the plaintiff imported a lot of tea from Japan without a consular certificate. The collector refused delivery and then sued him for the detention. Judge Sawyer decided that consular invoices are necessary only for dutiable goods. Hereafter coffee, tea, silk and sugar from the Hawaiian Islands can be imported without the consular invoices. It is a pleasure to see that this illegal, and unnecessary burden upon an already hampered commerce is to be removed.

The law bearing upon the entry of goods subject to duty, provides that each shipment be attended by an invoice, setting forth the quantity, quality, and value, at port of shipment, sworn to before a consular agent and bearing his official seal. There has never been the slightest objection to this requirement, aiding materially, as it does, in arriving at a satisfactory settlement with custom officials. The action is just, and, in spite of the expense incurred by merchants, but when goods upon the free list are subjected to the same burden, a decided remonstrance is to be expected, and it is surprising that the courts have not been appealed to before this, to free our already burdened shipping interest from this uncalled for, and legally uncollectable tax. No attempt to justify the arbitrary proceeding has ever been made, except the advancement of that very childish, and supposed unanswerable argument, the fact that it always has been done.

The list of free articles, contains over 200 different imports, and each of these must be accompanied by a consular certificate. The fee attending its procurement is light in individual cases, but a careful estimate of the aggregate shows, that at this port alone, the tax cannot fall far short of $50,000 per annum.

At the beginning of the present administration, the matter was brought to the attention of the authorities, to be met with the expressed fear, that the abolishment of consular certificates upon non-dutiable goods, and their attendant fees, would "materially affect the compensation of consular agents by cutting off one of their perquisites." What an argument, at a time when the commerce of this country is in need of all the encouragement possible at the hands of the administration! The shipping interests of this country are sacrificed to the pecuniary good of a small number of politically, deserving officeholders. This deplorable condition of things is neither new nor surprising, but it has been a condition that national pride has demanded should be ignored. Judge Sawyer, by his just decision has earned the gratitude of San Francisco merchants, and his action is a pleasing contrast to the attitude assumed by national officials.—[S. F. Commercial News.
